Best Treatment Options for Cutaneous Lymphomas*

April 11 to 13, 2024

Pasadena Convention Center

300 East Green St.
Pasadena, CA 91101, U.S.

CONGRESS CO-CHAIRS

Christiane Querfeld, MD, PhD

Director, Cutaneous Lymphoma Program
Professor, Departments of Pathology,
Hematology & Surgery
Division of Dermatology
City of Hope, United States (U.S.)

Emmilia Hodak, MD

President, International Society for
Cutaneous Lymphomas (ISCL)
Director, Cutaneous Lymphoma Service
Professor, Davidoff Cancer Center
Rabin Medical Center, Israel

CONGRESS HIGHLIGHTS INCLUDE

- Lectures and scientific abstracts on pathology, genetics, tumor microenvironment, therapeutics, clinical studies, quality of life and leading-edge research in cutaneous lymphomas
- Debates and discussions on key controversies
- Interactive question and answer sessions
- Poster sessions
- Networking opportunities among clinicians, investigators and scientists across institutions and geographical borders

This activity is brought to you in collaboration with ISCL (International Society for Cutaneous Lymphomas).

FOCUS

Cutaneous lymphomas are a heterogeneous group of rare, but potentially life-threatening, lymphomas affecting about 4,000 new patients annually in the U.S. alone. The disease is chronic and severely debilitating with no curative therapies currently available, hereby affecting patients' and caregivers' quality of life. The patients are managed by dermatologists, hematologists/oncologists, radiation oncologists and others with limited communication among these specialists, which poses additional management challenges.

There are gaps in understanding the biology of tumor cells and the supporting tumor microenvironment and how these translate into clinical management. In addition, there are novel immune-based and cellular therapies developed, however, it is not clear how to optimize these therapies for cutaneous lymphoma patients. This conference will provide the platform to improve understanding of the various aspects of these disorders, such as the evaluation of novel biomarkers, incorporating this into patient care or assessment of biopsies to facilitate diagnosis, and for treatment paradigms, as well as assessment of quality-of-life tools and patient-reported outcomes in clinical care and practice.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This educational program is directed toward physicians (clinicians and pathologists), advanced practice providers, other health care providers, researchers, scientists, students, trainees (residents, fellows), patients, patient caregivers and others with an interest in cutaneous lymphomas.

OBJECTIVES

- Integrate novel immunophenotypic and molecular markers to facilitate diagnosis.
- Evaluate the safety and efficacy of current and emerging therapeutic approaches for patients with cutaneous lymphoma.
- Assess trends in precision medicine and treatment paradigms in cutaneous lymphoma.
- Utilize patient-reported outcomes and disease-specific factors that may impact treatment decisions in cutaneous lymphoma.
- Discuss the latest discoveries in cutaneous lymphoma.
- Discuss possible barriers and biases which may impact patient care (e.g., race, ethnicity, language, gender identity/orientation, age, socioeconomic status, attitudes, feelings or other characteristics).

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS!

This congress will highlight high-impact contributions to the management and investigation of cutaneous lymphomas. The Scientific Committee invites you to submit your abstracts in this field for oral and poster consideration. Abstract acceptance will be driven by scientific merit, where only the best submissions will be selected.

FOCUS AREAS INCLUDE:

- Classification/Epidemiology/Prognostic Factors
- Cutaneous Lymphoma International Consortium — PROCLIP Studies
- Biologic Insights
- Pathogenesis/Biomarkers
- Tumor Microenvironment
- Therapeutics/Preclinical Studies
- Quality of Life/Patient-Reported Outcomes
- Challenging Cases of Cutaneous Lymphomas
- Leading-Edge Research and Future Directions of Cutaneous Lymphomas

The committee encourages experts in this field to submit their scientific work and contribute to making this the best meeting yet!

City of Hope may find it necessary to substitute faculty with comparable expertise on those rare occasions necessitated by illness, unforeseen scheduling conflicts or extraordinary occurrences.

PROGRAM INFORMATION

E-SYLLABUS: In order to ensure our registrants are receiving the most current slide sets presented, as well as keeping with City of Hope's "green initiative" to reduce waste, no printed syllabus containing slide sets will be available at this conference. An e-syllabus containing faculty presentations will be available electronically approximately one week prior to the start of and for one month following the end of the conference. E-syllabus access will be provided via email to all registrants. It is suggested, if possible, you attend this conference with your laptop fully charged. Internet access and additional power sources may NOT be provided. For questions, please contact the Department of Continuing Medical Education (CME) at cme@coh.org or 626-218-5622.

ACCREDITATION: City of Hope is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

City of Hope designates this live activity for a maximum of 19.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

EVALUATION: Registered attendees will receive an email at the conclusion of the congress meeting to complete an online evaluation of the course.

CERTIFICATES: CME Certificates will be available online after the completion and submission of the course evaluation.

CANCELLATION POLICY: Early bird registrations are nonrefundable. Refund requests must be submitted in writing and postmarked no later than Friday, February 9, 2024. A $50 processing fee will be applied for all refunds. Requests postmarked after Friday, February 9, 2024, will not be honored. All refunds will be processed 30 days after the meeting concludes. In the event of unforeseeable circumstances that lead to the cancellation by the conference organizers, all registration fees will be fully refunded.

SPECIAL ASSISTANCE: In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), all reasonable efforts will be made to accommodate persons with disabilities at the meeting. If you have any special dietary needs or accommodations that must be made, please notify the course manager at 626-218-5622 prior to the conference. It is important to notify us in advance of your special needs to help us better serve you.

SPECIAL INVITATION: Registered attendees are invited to attend the Congress Welcome Reception at The Westin Pasadena on Thursday, April 11, 2024, at 6 p.m. (included in the registration fee).

WIFI: Daily dedicated bandwidth will be provided by Encore, ensuring that you have a seamless connection and can access the E-Syllabus and presentations to follow along. City of Hope gratefully acknowledges the generous sponsorship from Encore.
